As this letter is your only notification of these upcoming payments, please retain it for your records.

Your commitments under this settlement agreement will be fulfilled once we confirm the final payment has cleared your checking account--generally 30 days from the date the final payment posts to the account. At that time, we'll consider the settlement agreement satisfied and will report the account to the following credit bureaus as charged-off, settled for less than the full balance.

Payments may be mailed to the address below—please be sure to include the account number with each payment.
